

SOLDIERS' DIES
ARE POURING IN

R. E. Hines and J. L. Marr
Promise 100 Each; The Chamber Aids Road.

Showing their interest and good will in the latest endeavor of the chamber of commerce, R. Emmett Hines and James L. Marr promised to supply 100 pies each, as their contribution to the pie and cake collection which is being made for the soldiers on Christmas day, guaranteeing the pies before the meeting of the board of directors held Tuesday afternoon.

It was brought out at the meeting that there will be nearly 5000 soldiers and 10,000 pies to provide an ample quantity for the soldiers now assembled in El Paso.

A report of the budget fund collection, showed that the city had been divided into districts, and it was decided that letters should have been planned to be sent out from the office of the chamber, to men in the outlying districts, would be sent out from the several real estate offices instead, thus keeping in line the mailing lists of these offices.

It was also decided that a recommendation be given to the new budget fund committee to appropriate $200 for the Post Worth-El Paso highway association, which is endeavoring to get a highway built between the two cities.

W. R. Starr, secretary of the association, was present at the meeting, and outlined the proposed work. This road project, has been pushed by Adrian Pool, former county judge.

Mother, Mother! Just Look Here--

—this is just what I want!

It was a bright eager boy who said it as he drew away the attention of his mother to the very thing he wanted

For His Christmas Present

That boy then had a full moon face upon him, and his mother wore a look of relief because the lad had found his Christmas gift he wanted from her.

To work off the choosings for Christmas one by one is the only way to do this necessary shopping. But it is sometimes easier to do it by taking time to walk over the store where thousands of suggestions rise before your eyes.

"It is a pleasure to do our shopping here" is what people are saying to us all day long.
